<tr>
<td>2023 marks the 160th anniversary of 3 impactful occasions in American History: The issuance of the Emancipation Proclamation, the battle of Gettysburg, and the Gettysburg Address. Cecil County recognized and was impacted by all three events. Why? Because a politically divided Cecil County is the only Maryland County that has the Mason Dixon line as both its northern and eastern border. And while no battles involving guns and bullets were fought in Cecil County, there were plenty of other battles. This course lays out the conflict as it unfolded in Cecil County, paying particular attention to what the newspapers were saying about it, what those who fought on both sides were writing about it in letters and diaries, and a review of the African American contribution to the Union war effort.
