So when a TV network offers to film a reality show there, the townsfolk jump at the chance. After all, the town will receive five million dollars, while the publicity promises to turn the residents into TV stars. But host Wink Smiley has his own agenda. What could be more fun for all ages than a zombie fractured fairy tale?! Thanks to some prompting from a conniving Magic Mirror, the vain queen poisons apples with a "special ingredient" (that just happens to be plutonium), leading to a kingdom-wide plague of zombie dwarves! Snow White and the Huntsman narrowly escape the dwarves, making Cinderella's stepmother and stepsisters the first zombie fodder, blindsided as they're dress shopping for the big ball. And Little Red Riding Hood never reaches Granny's house, instead falling victim, too! It's no surprise when the Three Little Pigs, who can't even protect themselves from Big Bad Wolf, become meaty breakfast treats for the swarm of hungry undead. Even Cinderella's cheery animal friends (portrayed with puppets) can't escape! As the zombie horde grows, the kingdom's dwindling band of survivors — including Old MacDonald, Candy Witch, Hansel, and Gretel — convene at the castle. The queen realizes with horror what she has done, but she still wants the royal ball to continue so she can win the heart of the hunky Prince Brawny. Will there be a happily ever after in this fairy tale? Note: There will be a performance on Friday, August 21st at 6pm. $375

YPTP Senior Troupe Ages 13-17

YPTP - Campers Take Control!

Alright, seniors -- we heard you loud and clear! Seniors Take Control is a one week session in which senior troupe students (anyone ages 13-17 -- no prior experience required!) work together to write, rehearse, design, and perform their very own pieces. Want to make an intense, emotionally cathartic dramatic piece? Awesome! Want to write a series of ridiculous one acts that all incorporate space junk and the gnome song? Let's do it! Want to create your own interactive murder mystery, raid the costume closet, build weird props, and score the whole show with meme songs? It's a plan! $199

6/22-6/26 9am-3:30pm Elkton Station Ages 13-17

YPTP - Campers Take Control! Internship

Interns will participate in all the fun and mayhem of our Campers Take Control week by working as a team to meet the crazy design and technical needs of our campers! Along with their normal responsibilities, interns will participate in all the games, improv, etc. that go down in the course of this week and assist the current Senior Troupe with the beginning stages of their designs. $49

8/3-8/7 9am-3:30pm Elkton Station Ages 13-17

YPTP - Production Internship (2 Weeks)

Production interns will participate in workshops with theater professionals to build their skills in all the fields of design and technical theater, and then apply those skills by taking on a design or management role (set, costumes, props, lighting, sound, publicity, or stage management) in the current Junior Acting Troupe production. $249

6/22-7/3 9am-3:30pm Elkton Station Ages 13-17
7/20-7/31 9am-3:30pm Elkton Station Ages 13-17
8/10-8/21 9am-3:30pm Elkton Station Ages 13-17

YPTP - Senior Acting Troupe (Ages 13-17) (Two weeks)

The Senior Acting Troupe allows actors 13-17 with prior performing experience to push their skills to the next level. Students will audition for the performance and then work with their director on blocking and higher level character and script analysis. Senior Acting Troupe members, much like Production Interns, are expected to assist with day to day life around camp by taking on leadership roles and serving as role models for Junior Acting Troupe members. Two productions are listed below.

YPTP - Backstage: Weeks 4-5

We all know that the real drama in a theatre takes place backstage and creates quite a comedy to watch! This has never been more true than at Theatre Baroque, where the star, one-time matinee idol Burton Cavendish, suddenly dies an hour before the premiere of "Don Juan in Cleveland." Once it is discovered that Cavendish has passed away, Lou, the director, calls on Ajax, the understudy, to fill in. But Ajax must play Cavendish both on and off stage, and he can't tell anyone — not even his own mother! It is to be the great star's last performance... and Ajax's greatest performance ever. He reluctantly agrees, only to face nasty critics, doting mothers and one very large goon sent to collect a bundle from the great actor. Ajax even has to fool his own mother, who shows up backstage to say hello to Ajax and meet the famous Cavendish! (Little does she know she achieves both of those goals at one time!) Lines and plot twists fly quickly in this theatrical farce where over-the-hill prima donnas reign — or think they do — and most of the rest of the cast is betting on who comes out on top. Note: There will be a performance on Friday, July 24th, at 6pm. $375

YPTP - Archie and the Wallflower: Weeks 7-8

This clever comedy gets two green thumbs up! The New Leaf Greenhouse is facing foreclosure, but owner Filmore Potts and his employees are busy with other matters — from hosting a garden party for the uppity Butterfly Club to dealing with an explosive experiment concocted by Nate, the resident scientist. To make the day even more volatile, Ivy has concocted a love potion to win over Pete, who barely notices her. Wouldn't you know? The pitcher containing the secret love tonic looks just like Nate's new plant-growth formula as well as the Butterfly Club's lemonade, resulting in a jumble of unrequited love triangles, unnatural vegetation and one disastrous garden party! Ivy is green with envy when Pete instantly falls for Polly, the wallflower who only talks to the plants, while the nerdy Nate drank the wrong lemonade and now won't let Ivy be. In the midst of the chaos, Archie — a talking flower played by a puppeteer — is "born." Archie and Polly become fast friends, and Archie gets a chance to teach her how to open up and "blossom" to help her express her feelings for Nate. There's an unexpected twist waiting behind every corner in this unique comedy that adds depth to its slapstick humor with a touch of genuine pathos, some witty wordplay, and a lot of heart. Note: There will be a performance on Friday, August 14th, at 6pm. $375

8/3-8/14 9am-3:30pm Elkton Station Ages 13-17

YPTP - Technical Internship

Interns in the technical internship will join the production staff halfway through the current Junior Acting Troupe production. This is a great option for Senior Acting Troupe participants who want to get in on the technical side of theater as well! Interns in the technical internship will jump into the production process by supporting designers and taking on roles as board ops, prompts, back stage managers, and more. $125
